Looking forward to January:

MARK YOUR CALENDARS FOR OUR MANDATORY PARENT/STUDENT/TEACHER WORKSHOP!!

This workshop is for parents, teachers, and students. It will take place the week of January 2nd. It will be held from 10am to 12pm on your school's campus.

Our main topic for the workshop will be: Habitudes for Veritas families and students.

Your student will get the assignment sheet for work that is due January 9th by attending. All High School parents who intend to transcript with Veritas Classical Schools for the 2011-2012 school year must attend the workshop.

Please make a special effort to be at the workshop. Many hours have been spent on developing a worthwhile program that will be beneficial for everyone. Some of the topics we cover will be difficult to recreate for a parent that cannot attend. In return for your time, we will make every effort to leave you with knowledge and support for the remainder of the school year. Thank you in advance for your attendance!

We will continue to announce this important date each week so you will not forget to attend. First full day of school will be the week of January 9th.

The McDonough Campus should note that school will be held on Friday, Jan.13th to make up for the MLK Holiday on January 16th, 2012. There will be no school on Monday, January 16th.
